*| Transforming Data
| Into Knowledge*

“

We are focused on a deeper relationship than most other providers. We are generally viewed as members of the team, not as commoditized vendors. As a result, we often have the opportunity to add value far beyond the traditional role of data processing and eDiscovery support.

- David DiGiovanni, CEO

CUSTOM APPROACH

Your solutions should be as unique as your problems. Contact helps you build the right combination of internal functionality and external expertise for every matter.

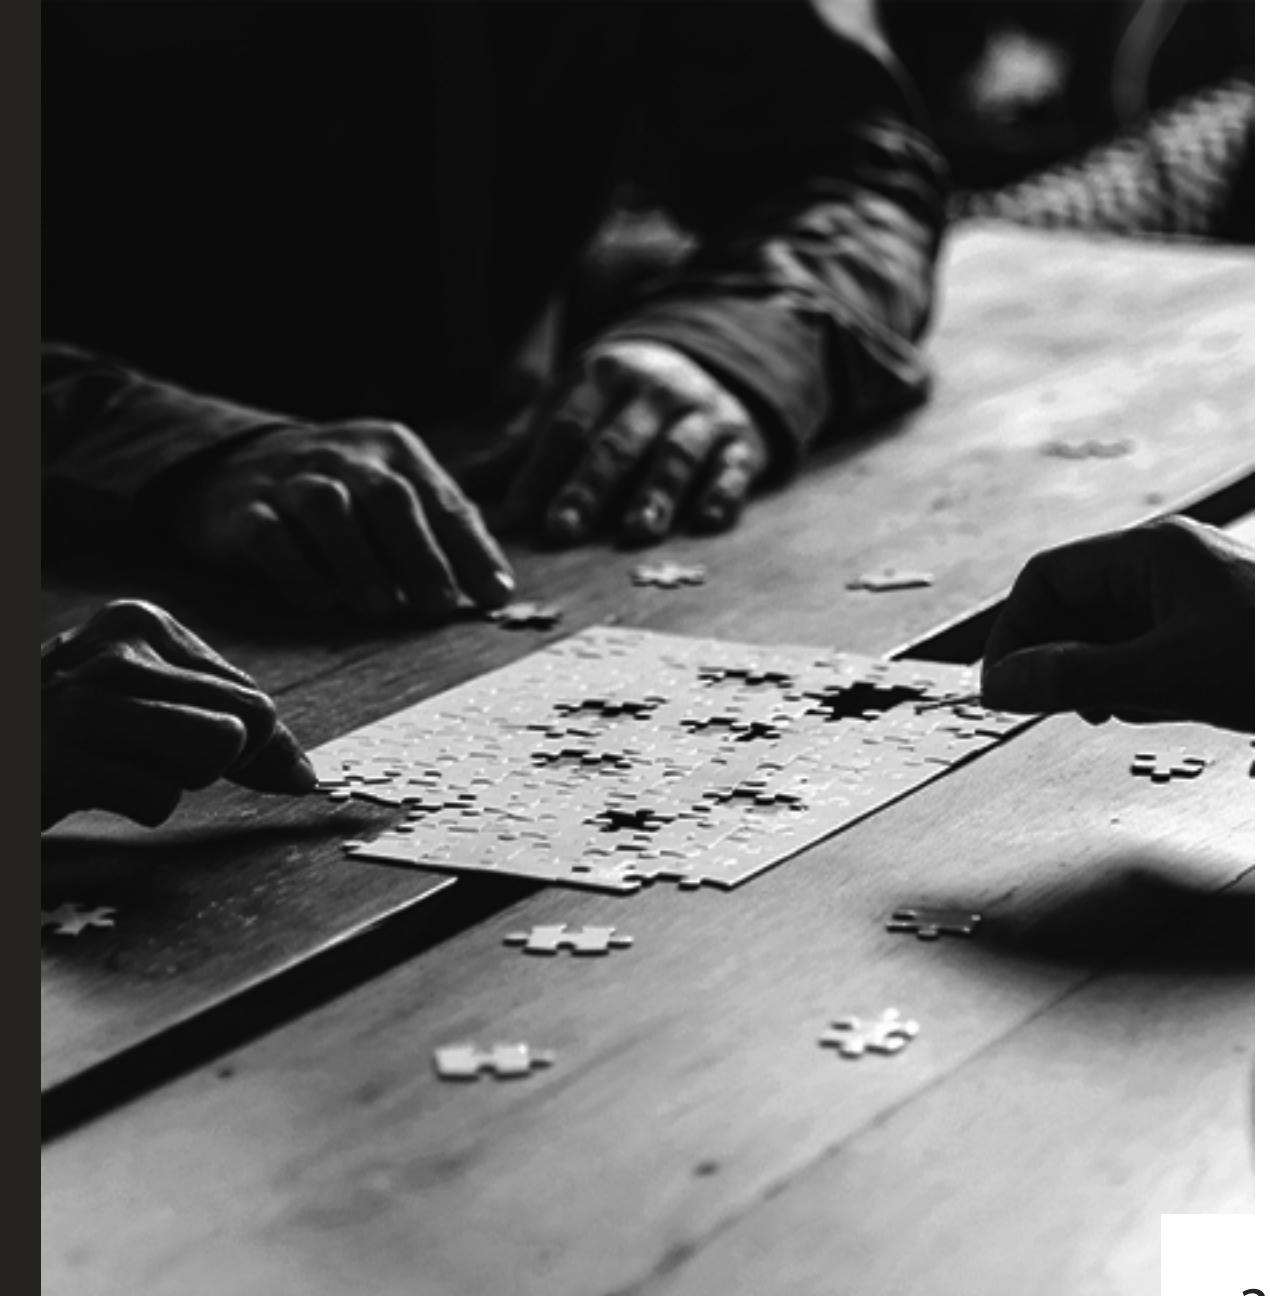

BUILT FOR THE FUTURE

Solve problems today and prevent them tomorrow. Contact prides itself on anticipating your needs and helping you prepare for them.

TOP NOTCH TALENT

Contact's team has in-depth knowledge in tech, business, and law. We transcend the role of "consultants" and become an extension of your team.

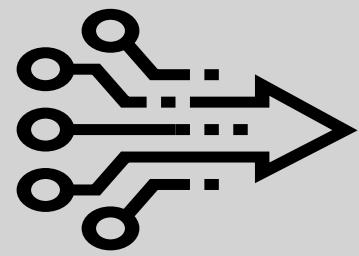

LIMITLESS INNOVATION

Where other providers see a necessary evil, Contact sees a problem to be solved. Innovation is in our DNA, so bring your vision to us and we'll bring it to life.

SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT

Maximize efficiency with scalable, custom eDiscovery software that empowers you to pivot as priorities change in the future.

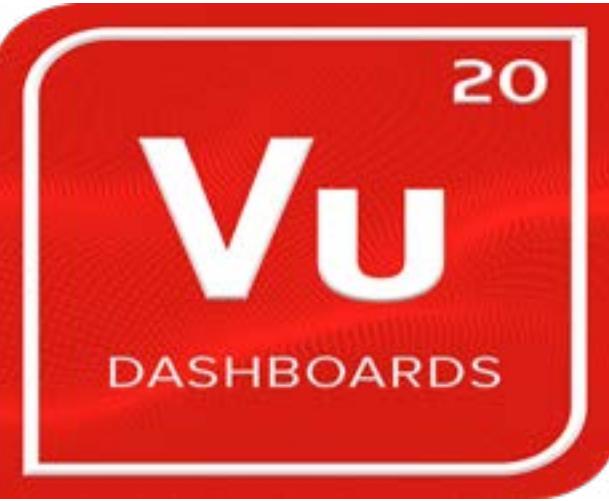

OUR TECHNOLOGY

Built just for legal matters, M8™ helps you achieve consistent, reliable workflows by unifying your processes into one central application. Break projects down into tasks and manage their deadlines; see how workloads are distributed and rearrange as needed; quickly identify the vendors that have performed well on similar matters.

Stop reviewing mobile chats with cumbersome spreadsheets and exports from forensic software. MobileRev™ lets you review text messages, iChat, WhatsApp and other supported formats with images similar to what you'd see on your phone. View chats, emojis, foreign language alphabets, and attachments on a single screen.

Vu™ use intuitive graphics to bring the most relevant information to the surface. Answer your most common questions without engaging your provider. See how many documents you have, what types they are, and reviewer progress. Make informed decisions faster with visually engaging charts and graphics that reveal the health of your matter.

Unleash the full potential of the industry's leading software. Whether you host within our Relativity environment or already have your own, our team of veteran developers, engineers, and project managers can push Relativity to its limits with the functionality you need the most. With a comprehensive, proactive, intel-driven security program, you can trust Relativity with your most sensitive information.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS

"Everyone takes their work very seriously here and we deliver a high level of quality. We present ourselves as more of 'people helping people' and less of 'company helping client.'"

-- Tyler, eDiscovery Data Engineer

"Our people are fantastic, bright, and enthusiastic. We are a high functioning service provider that I would put up against anyone in the market."

-- Scott, Chief Operating Officer

"Every single employee at Contact has a certain level of pride in their work. We would never let something out that door if we weren't confident in putting our name on the product."

-- Sam, Senior Project Manager

"Contact has great communication between teams which leads to innovative solutions. Everyone has the flexibility to adapt their knowledge to the current challenge of the day."

-- James, Associate Director of Forensics

"We have a great concentration of people with high technical aptitude and a commitment to customer service. We're always looking to utilize our technical know-how for our clients' needs."

-- Zack, Director of Project Management
